MEDIA ADVISORY

Maryland Public Television to enable livestream coverage during 2024 Maryland General Assembly legislative session

Owings Mills, MD – Maryland Public Television’s (MPT) Production Services unit is again partnering with the Maryland Department of Legislative Services to provide livestream coverage of the floor proceedings of the 446th session of the Maryland General Assembly.

Under a three-year contract signed in late 2023, the Maryland Department of Legislative Services hired MPT to provide technical production services that enable the department to stream live, gavel-to-gavel coverage of the Maryland Senate and House of Delegates for the 2024-2026 Maryland General Assembly legislative sessions. Throughout these sessions, activities on the floors of each chamber will be available to view live on the Maryland General Assembly website at mgaleg.maryland.gov.

MPT has partnered with the Maryland Department of Legislative Services to provide livestream video coverage of House floor sessions since 2020. In 2022, services were expanded to include gavel-to-gavel streaming of both the House and Senate chambers for the entire 90-day session.

In addition to MPT’s technical production services in Annapolis, the statewide public TV network’s weekly series State Circle begins its 43rd season in January. Led by anchor Jeff Salkin, the long-running series will continue to provide in-depth reporting on the legislative session through its sine die conclusion in April.
